How to pay for college...

Scholarships and waivers awarded to students with good grades, athletic ability or musical talent. These do not have to be repaid.

Grants

based on financial need. These do not have to be repaid.

Loans

available to students (or parents) with financial need. These must be repaid after a student leaves school.

College work available to students with financial need. This federal employment program helps students reduce the cost of their education.

Campus employment

available to students with or without financial need.

FAFSA Pin Number

If you are planning to file for financial aid, you & your parent will need pin numbers in order to fill in FAFSA online and/or track your application.

www.pin.ed.gov

Log onto the Internet at the above site to obtain the pin numbers. You will be asked for your social security number & e-mail address. You will need this pin number every year you are in college so keep it handy.

2010-11 FAFSA Information

Apply online at www.fafsa.ed.gov

(not .com)

Most universities and colleges require students to complete this form. Contact your school for the date of a FAFSA night for help in completing this form. FAFSA determines qualifications for many grants, loans, & work-study programs colleges can award students.

What you will need:

- Completed 2010 income tax forms from student & parents
- social security numbers
- driver's license numbers

American Opportunity Credit Helps Pay for the First Four Years of College

The American opportunity credit modifies the existing Hope credit for tax years 2009 and 2010, making it available to a broader range of taxpayers. Income guidelines are expanded and required course materials are added to the list of qualified expenses. Many of those eligible will qualify for the maximum annual credit of $2,500 per student.

The American opportunity credit, in many cases, offers greater tax savings than existing education tax breaks. Here are some key features of the credit:

- Tuition, related fees, books and other required course materials generally qualify. In the past, books usually were not eligible for education-related credits and deductions.
- The credit is equal to 100 percent of the first $2,000 spent and 25 percent of the next $2,000. That means the full $2,500 credit may be available to a taxpayer who pays $4,000 or more in qualified expenses for an eligible student.
- The full credit is available for taxpayers whose modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) is $80,000 or less (for married couples filing a joint return, the limit is $160,000 or less). The credit is phased out for taxpayers with incomes above these levels. These income limits are higher than under the existing Hope and lifetime learning credits.
- Forty percent of the American opportunity credit is refundable. This means that even people who owe no tax can get an annual payment of the credit of up to $1,000 for each eligible student. Existing education-related credits and deductions do not provide a benefit to people who owe no tax. The refundable portion of the credit is not available to any student whose investment income is taxed at the parent's rate, commonly referred to as the kiddie tax. See Publication 929, Tax Rules for Children and Dependents

This credit is only allowed for the first four years of post-secondary education. Graduate students still qualify for the lifetime learning credit and the tuition and fees deduction. For details on these and other education-related tax benefits, see Pub. 970.

These Internet sites may be helpful in finding scholarships.

There is never any reason to pay $$$$ to get scholarships or financial aid information.

There are "scholarship" companies that invite students & parents to evening meetings or via internet to sign up for their services. Costs range from $160 to $900! You can get all of this for free at school or other places on the Internet !

Scholarship Sources are everywhere...

- Employers- check with company where you, your parents, even grandparents work.
- Volunteer work- some organizations reward their volunteers with grants or scholarships for higher education.
- Organizations/Clubs- many professional and social groups offer scholarships for their members or member's children. Check with professional organization in your field of study if you or a parent are a veteran- you may qualify for financial assistance.
- Unions- unions to which you or your parents belong
- High School- groups on campus may have scholarships available each year.
- PSAT- results from this test generate scholarships such as National Merit Scholarship.
- Churches- local churches and their headquarters may have scholarships available for their members
- Library- reference sections of local libraries have several scholarship books for you to look through
- Internet- there are dozens of free scholarship search sights-one of the best is www.fastweb.com
- Newspapers- a story may include a scholarship or program to which you may apply

Polishing Your Scholarship Essays

 Scholarship committee readers do not know you!! **

You need to tell them:

- who you are
- what your goals are for next 2-10 years
- how did you arrive at these goals
- what influenced you
 - people
 - special experiences
- personal values
 - explain what is important to you and why

Neatness counts!

- read ALL instructions before beginning
- follow the instructions EXACTLY !
- type rather than write by hand

Make your application stand out

- be as creative as the instructions will allow
- include a picture of yourself

Allow 1 week for letters of recommendation to be written

- give writer your resume, goal statement and any other information needed
- send a hand written thank you note after receiving the recommendation

Have an adult read over the application & offer feedback

Order transcript (if needed) from your Counseling Office

- request must be made at least 3-4 days ahead of deadline
- leave completed application and other materials for mailing along with the transcript - your school will mail them for you!
